GROUND TRUTH

This is the official video guide Ø=ÜÝ on how to check your running level and train step by step with Running Coach on Galaxy Watch8 Series. Where does your running ability stand right now? You can find out through Running Coach on Galaxy Watch8 Series. Start with a simple test that measures your running level from 1 to 10, then follow a 3 to 5 week training plan tailored to your results. Running Coach helps you train at your own pace and chart your own path of progress. Learn more: http://smsng.co/Watch8_Running-Coach_ytÐ

Step 1: Tap 'Find your level' on your Galaxy Watch8 Series to start Running Coach.Ð
Step 2: Take the Running Level Test to assess your current running ability.Ð
Step 3: Receive a level from 1 to 10 and get a 3 to 5 week training plan.Ð
Step 4: Follow the daily training guide and receive running insights during each workout.Ð
Step 5: Track your progress and challenge yourself to reach the next level.Ð
Ð
Q: What kind of workout plan does Running Coach offer?Ð
A: Running Coach provides a structured 3 to 5 week plan that's customized to your fitness level. It provides real-time audio guidance from your watch to notify you about your pace, distance and progress toward your goal regardless whether you're a beginner or an experienced runner.Ð
Q. Will my training be saved even if I don't hit my goal? And is it okay to do multiple sessions in a day?Ð
A: Yes, all your Running Coach training sessions are saved, even if you don't meet your goal. This data can help adjust future training plans. However, we recommend completing only one session per day since multiple sessions may lead to excessive training load.Ð
Q. Can I use Running Coach on a treadmill?Ð
A: Running Coach is only available in outdoor environments where GPS signals are received. This is because the training program relies on real-time location data to calculate pace, distance and speed. Indoor environments do not…

Step 3: Start the outdoor running test to measure your current pace.
Step 4: Receive your personalized training plan and daily insights.
Step 5: Take the level up test as you improve to reach new goals.

Q: How does the Galaxy Watch8 Running Coach determine my fitness level?
A: The Galaxy Watch8 uses a combination of a user survey and a physical running test. By monitoring your heart rate, pace, and endurance during the test, the Samsung health algorithms categorize your current fitness level to provide a tailored coaching program that matches your specific needs.

Q: What features allow me to track my runs without my phone?
A: Once the training plan is synced to your Galaxy Watch8, you can track your runs and receive real-time coaching directly from your wrist. The device utilizes built-in GPS and sensors to provide daily insights and pace guidance even when you are running without your smartphone.
